Neoxen to integrate Ellibs eBooks with eLearning Solutions

Neoxen Systems and Ellibs Ltd, a leading Scandinavian eBooks provider, are bringing over 60 000 eBooks to SharePoint based eLearning solutions.

"Today we offer public and academic libraries a comprehensive turnkey solution, which integrates seamlessly to the library's own system or website. Together with Neoxen we see great opportunities to extend our services to the educational sector as a whole and furthermore the integration with Neoxen offerings, especially Microsoft Learning Gateway, as a major step for the national information society initiative." says Jarmo Heikkilä, Managing Director at Ellibs. "We offer today more than 60 000 titles from the best known publishing houses in the world and are excited to the possibility to reach schools and educational institutes at any level to support teaching and learning."

"Our partnership with Ellibs has an important role when implementing our solutions for the educational sector." says Esa Tervo, Chief Executive Officer at Neoxen Systems. "The industry standard offerings from Ellibs are widely used in the public and academic libraries. The vast amount of eBooks already available provides remarkable added value to our Visual Modus and Microsoft Learning Gateway users."

Ellibs' products and services include eBook ordering services (EBook Web Shop), eBook lending systems (Ellibs Library) and eBook solutions for companies (Bookshelf).

Neoxen NaviList - Open Standards

Neoxen embraces XML based open industry standards for interoperability. For instance Neoxen Visual Modus integrated with Microsoft Learning Gateway allows users to link documents, instructions, descriptions, web links, folder contents, tools, eBooks and eBook libraries, and to store them as logical XML-based NaviLists.

Together with Neoxen EveryPlace[™] extensions, NaviLists integrate almost any desktop application with Microsoft Office SharePoint and Microsoft Learning Gateway. This intuitive approach allows users to access the entire information directly from their productivity tools.
